THINKS MAIL SORTING NO JOKE

Editor Pioneer,

Dear Sir, If the party who inserted the local in the Pioneer of March 8th, re sorting of mails, would attempt to sort mail or decipher some of the scribblings that come through the post office and then place the mail to the right parties whose name is the same as dozens of others in the community, besides the great many other difficulties the officials have to contend with, without making mistakes, I think, from the tone of his local, that he would only be at it about a week before he would have to consult someone at Ponoka instead of an eye specialist. You won't have to wear glasses to read the name of the party inserting this local.

A. W. ANTILL.

Suggested Changes In Public School Curriculum

Revision of the course of studies in the Alberta Public Schools, which has been undertaken during the past year by a committee of prominent citizens named over a year ago, is now practically completed, and the committee has made its general recommendations to the Minister of Education, Hon. Peter Baker.

The result of the recommendations, if adopted, will be a course of studies for the public schools greatly simplified, made less burdensome as to number of subjects and amount of material handled, and made more practical for every-day use. In other words, the emphasis will now be laid upon the fundamentals, with the frills relegated to their proper place.

The general recommendations of the committee are as follows:

Subjects of study to be divided into two groups.

Fundamental and Secondary. Fundamental subjects to form the basis of promotion, and to receive from 75 to 80 per cent, of the school time.

Fundamental subjects to be Arithmetic, English (reading, literature, composition, spelling and grammar in the later grades) Writing, Elementary Science (nature study, agriculture, geography) History in the later grades.

Secondary subjects to include Physical Education and Industrial Education (arts, manual arts, household economics.)

English, oral and written to be the basal subject in elementary schools, and no less than 50 per cent. of the school time to be devoted to it.

All old subjects to be retained but combined to prevent loss of time, and obsolete matter to be eliminated.

Course in "Citizenship" to be introduced, in which stress may be laid on principles of morality, citizenship and manners.

In the last years of the elementary school, a certain amount of optional material is to be provided.

The aims of the committee in simplifying the course of studies is illustrated by its handling of several subjects. The teaching of English in its various branches is to have 50 per cent. of the school time, certain definite standards are to be set, and home work to be limited. In reading, there will be three phases, silent, oral and reading as a social exercise. In spelling the list of words taught will be limited to 1500 everyday words with supplementary lists of words needed in special situations.

The revision of the High School curriculum is also being undertaken.

The importance of solving the problem of keeping the rural schools of the Province open the year round, and the need of filling the demand for capable teachers, are two problems emphasized in the report of the Department of Education for 1921, submitted to the Legislature, last week by Peter Baker, Minister of Education. These two problems are referred to by John T. Ross, Deputy Minister.

The entire report, however, sounds an encouraging note for the future of education in the province. G. Fred McNally, Supervisor of Schools, forecasts that by September of 1922, the supply of teachers will have reached the demand. He comments on the great increase in normal students saying there will be 530 new teachers ready for duty early in 1922.

Another feature of the report is the comment on the great increase in high school attendance and the increase in the number of rural schools handling high school work.

Griffith In Control Of Irish Situation It Is Conceded

Should Reach
Wage Agreement

Would Facilitate Making Contracts and Help the Farmer

Dublin.—Numerous clashes occurred again in the Dail Eireann, the feeling running high. Eamon de Valera continued to press for recognition of the Dail's independence, but the ministers of the provisional government held firmly that they were responsible only to the Irish people.

Divisions continue to show there is no doubt that Griffith is in control. Observers expressed the opinion that the net result of the two days' debate has been to strengthen the hands of the provisional government, and increase public confidence in their ability to handle the situation.

In the course of a long debate on the election machinery Arthur Griffith maintained his determination to hold the elections as arranged three months hence and on the old register.

The members of the provisional government displayed intense impatience at the tedious debates, which they call an appalling waste of time. They have much work to do in connection with getting the Free State established, and are eager to get on with it.

Michael Collins, an ardent nationalist, reproached his opponents for failing to submit a single constructive idea. The finance minister's fears of endurance made his associates, he writes, daily until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, getting only four or five hours' sleep.

The nature of the work of the provisional government ministers, Mr. Collins informed the Associated Press correspondent, was so complicated that it could not be delegated to subordinates.

The Mennonite Exodus

Winnipeg.—Marking the beginning of the Mennonite exodus from Manitoba, a party of the Old Colony Mennonites from Plum Coulee, Man., passed through here on the first stage of their journey to San Antonio, Mexico. They are travelling in a special train of 23 cars, bearing household effects and two passenger cars. About 200 persons compose the vanguard of the exodus.

Mrs. Daniel Bezzanson, Logyville, N.S., writes: "I was troubled with a weak heart for a year. I was unable to walk far or sit long. When I was writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me."

"I was so weak I could not sleep at night; I would take shooting spells, and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two other remedies, but they did not help. I advised my to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble."

Business in Force of Sun Life Now
Over Five Hundred Millions

The figures which have been submitted to the public by the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada bear eloquent testimony to the fact that the Canadian public have adhered closely to their traditions of thrift, through a period of trade depression and widespread readjustment.

The volume of assurance borne upon the books of the Company has reached the enormous figure of over $356,000,000.00. The total income from premiums, interest and other sources is far in excess of anything ever before experienced in the history of the Company. At the present moment, it is considerably more than $100,000 a day for every working day of the year. No less a sum than $11,967,690.00 was paid to policyholders or their beneficiaries during the year, which brings the amount paid out since the Company's foundation in 1865, up to $114,155,000.00.

A striking expansion of the Company's assets is another significant fact. A surplus is disclosed of $16,382,969 over all liabilities and capital stock. This surplus, both in fact and proportionately, marks the year that has just closed as being phenomenal, even in the history of a concern which has been busily engaged in breaking records for over half a century.

Mrs. Thomas writes that she is a different woman now. If you are suffering from troubles women often have, you will be greatly relieved when our addition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Plunkett's Vegetable Compound. It is a most valuable medicine. Should you as it has Mrs. Thomas and many, many other women.

This medicine has been helping sick women nearly 80 years—surely a long record of service.

Thankful for Good Will

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles
Now Wish to be Left Alone

Shinal, Eng.—The honeymoon of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles will be spent in seclusion at Weston Park. They expressed great gratitude for the tremendous display of good will at their wedding, but now they firmly wish to be left alone in the manor with its 11,000 acres of pleasure grounds.

There is no formality in the manor and there are no court attendants or relatives. There are only a few servants whose purpose is to make the seclusion of the pair absolute. The telephone has been disconnected in order to make them secure from outside intrusion. It is the purpose of the couple not to leave the manor for at least a few days. In the meantime the great estate offers all they want in the way of diversion and exercise.

By mailing your purchases from your home merchant you are contributing directly to the prosperity of the community in which you live.

RHEUMATISM?

Health is the Most Valuable Asset
You Have. You cannot Afford to Neglect it.

Croton, N.Y.—I was troubled for years with inflammatory rheumatism and rheumatic fever. I tried several remedies for rheumatism, but did not receive any benefit from them. I had been ill in the hospital for months, being unable to walk or stand. A friend advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Anaric. Tables.

After taking the tablets I began to improve, and after taking six bottles I had no more rheumatism. I think Dr. Pierce's Anaric is the most valuable medicine that any one can take for rheumatism. I have recommended these tablets to several of my friends and they, too, have been completely relieved by them.

People are realizing that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and a constant task in expelling the poisons from the body. Urine acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, gout, heart trouble and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs any one would do well to get Dr. Pierce's Anaric Tablets, which are to be had nowaday at almost any drug store and send 10¢ to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ont., for package and price for free, confidential medical advice.

Canada's Enormous Coal Reserves Add To Our National Wealth

Known as the center of the coal deposits before the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, C. V. Corlett, president of the institute, referred to Canada's enormous coal reserves surrounding Hudson Bay, as a valuable resource base of minerals, where coal prospecting had scarcely begun. This area included the nickel fields at Sudbury, silver mines at Cobalt and gold mines at Porcupine, one of which might soon reach the production of the world's greatest production.

Referring to the great percentage of the area which comprises the forested portion of Quebec, Mr. Corlett predicted that enormous financial dividends awaited discovery by "the thrifty people in this province."

Mr. Corlett referred to the tremendous coal reserves in Canada, estimated at 12,200,000,000 tons or 350,000 times the present annual consumption. He pointed out that though Canada was spoken of as an agricultural country only 15 per cent, of the area of the Dominion was suitable for cultivation, while 90 per cent, would undoubtedly produce great industrial wealth. He suggested that the mining industry should receive a large share of government assistance.

Our Lit.

After much excitement our Literary Society has finally been reestablished. It is bound to be better, more instructive and more meaningful than ever. The structure of the Executive has been altered to make it more efficient and workable. Moreover, real enthusiasm and appreciation of the worth and pleasure to be derived from a Lit. seems to be growing up among the pupils and we are all awaiting in a state of joyful anticipation our next program. With Nellie Wilson at its head, Bob Eubank as Vice, Tom Reed as Secretary, and Nan Johnson as Treasurer, the organization cannot be stopped in its break-neck course up the path of Fame. The first program was really a "howling success." More of them! Success to our new Executive!

The public are invited to attend our next program which will be held in Room 1 of the Public School on Friday, March 24th at 3 p. m. You will miss the sole joy of your life if you miss our next Lit. Literally speaking our "Tattler" is a "scream"; our Jester's Club will send you home with apendicitis. Come to our Lit.!

Grade IX has awakened out of that state of lethargy which is common to all first year H. S. students, has descended from its high pedestal of glorious conceit, (which also is common to all Grade IX's), and is now setting the pace for the rest of the school. It's Club, the I. W.

BIG STRIKE OF COAL MINERS LIKELY IN THE NEAR FUTURE

The outlook for a settlement of the disagreement between the United Mine Workers of America and the employers is assuming a serious aspect and so far there seems to be no prospect of coming to any agreement. The strike is scheduled to start on April 1st unless an agreement is reached. The U. S. government has repeatedly tried to bring about an adjustment but have so far failed. The miners demand the maintenance of the 1920 wage agreement but the employers are demanding a 20 per cent. reduction.

How It Will Affect Alberta

The strike, if such is put into force, will have the same effect in Alberta as it will have in the States, as the miners organizations here are a branch of the organization in the U. S. The same demands are being made in Alberta and a strike vote is being taken amongst the miners. The present agreement expires on March 31st. It looks as though it will be a fight and it will be wise to lay in a supply of coal.

The Railroads May Be Involved

It is being reported that if the miners go out on strike the railroad organizations may go out with them in sympathy. If this is the case a pretty general strike will occur at the beginning of the month in the U. S. reader

Select Laxative Medicine
With Great Care

In debility and weakness, medicine should be mild and far-reaching. Many pills and purgatives are too harsh and drag instead of helping. Excessive action is always followed by depression, and knowing this Dr. Hamilton devised his pills of Murine, a good laxative, which mildly increase liver and kidney action, so as to flush out the system by toning and regulating the bowels. Thus do Dr. Hamilton's pills of Murine bring health to the body, thus can they restore clearness to the skin, that do they renew health and strength. To keep your system in good condition, send your money with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25¢ a box, to Dr. Arthur, 105 Main Street, Didsbury, Alta., or to the manufacturer, The Catarrhous Co., Montreal.

"What have you done to him?" she said.

"I have cut off his hand ready. You do well to speak thus," he said. "I take off the blame." He raised his hands slowly until his eyes met hers. They were not the eyes she had known. They were the eyes of a man who had been crushed, who had been powdered between the wheels of fate. The oil, masterful, opaque, the old familiar color of sunburn, the fingers and admiration were gone, and in their place were eyes of sorrow and ashes of defeat. For a moment she held back; then, with arms encircled, she fell upon his breast.

And then he felt his strength return. He drew her to him again, and again she knew that world had burst to him; then very gently, released her a little. . . . He found his fingers threading her fine hair, as they had loved to do when she was a kitten.

She sank to her knees before him, and at last she looked up in his face. "Forgive me, my father," she whispered.

He kissed her forehead and struggled with his voice. "We all make mistakes, Beulah," he said. "I have done mine, but I have learned, and there is this to prove."

His words turned Beulah's thoughts to Allan, and the necessity for action brought her to her feet. "We must save him, wife. Is the policeman gone? We must have the best doctors from Calgary." Looking about she found that Grey and Arthur had the necessary money, and she turned to her father and child alone with their empty hands.

Liver Pains

Pains under the shoulder blade, tell of liver derangements. Other indications are yellow complexion, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and bilious headache.

The quickest way to arrest the liver to healthy action is by use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Continued use will give lasting relief, correct the whole digestive system and purify the blood.

Mrs. Wm. Barten, Hanover, Ont., writes:

"For some time I suffered from liver trouble. There was a hard, bearing-down feeling in my back which I could not get rid of. Some one advised me to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, so, and I found them to be good. The druggist who sold my back disappeared and I felt much benefited generally. I have great confidence in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and always keep them on hand for general use."

then, but she found them at the front of the house.

She seized the policeman by the arm. "You must get us a doctor—the best doctor in the country," she pleaded. "We will spare nothing."

"My name is Mr. Sergeant Grey," said Arthur, and the police man deftly converted her grasp into a handshake.

"Arthur has told me the injured man is your brother. He shall want nor nothing. And the sooner you go the sooner will you have help."

"Your prisoner seems double-entangled," he said, "but I think you would send a man up to stay about the place until I can get a coroner out here."

"Robbers, did you say?" demanded Grey. "Then it was for robbery?"

"Yes, Miss Harris. It seems your father had a large sum of money on him. He gave it to the police officer, but it is not likely that more than two were implicated, and as one was shot on the spot this must know where the money is, and will bring him in for trial due time."

So saying he rode down to the gate, thanked the cowboy who had been keeping an eye on the prisoner, and the two started off at a smart trot down the trail.

CHAPTER XIX.

Prisoners of Fate

Beulah remained in the house until the policeman left. Mrs. Arthur stepped on the stairs.

"Your mother knows," she said. "They are both in the room with Allan."

Her first impulse was to catch him and complete the family circle, but some fine sense restrained her. For distraction she plucked from the neck of the hanging basket a rose.

At length they came down. Beulah saw them on the stairs, and knew that the gall was bridged.

"All is better," her brother said. "He has seen you, and I told him 'He has seen you for me.' And the next morning Beulah was on her knees by the white bed, caressing the ticks that were on Allan's forehead.

"How did I get here, Beulah?" he asked.

"I have been badly hurt, but you are going to get well again. When you are stronger we will talk about it, but at present you must lie still."

"Lie still and rest," he repeated.

"How good it is to lie still and rest!"

Later in the day the pain in Allan's waist began to be a sharp, sharp tort, but he was able to swallow some paroxide with pure cream, and his breath came easily. His father stayed about the room, over every chair, and the wife took up a stool and daughter, and as Allan's great constitution gave evidence of winning the fight a deep happiness came upon him. His wife was as glad to have him home again as he was to be home again. Late night I was in Gethsemane."

It was strange to hear a word suggestive of religion from his lips; then he had not spoken of it for many years, but he was too busy for it. But this word showed that his mind had been travelling back over old tracks.

"And today we are in Africa," she said. "What a difference! What a difference!—if everything's all right?"

"If only Allan—!" he faltered.

"Allan will get well, the world will be better off without him."

"He will be well, but in some way he must be a little different."

"Beulah was right," he said at last.

"Beulah is a wonderful girl, and a beautiful!"

"She will not be wanting to go back home again," said the mother.

"So much the better, Mary, Mary, we have no home to go back to!"

She looked at him with a sudden puzzlement, half frightened expression.

"You know, John, no home? You don't mean that?"

He nodded and turned his face away. "I said I hadn't told you all," he mumbled, "but I sold the farm."

MISS NELLIE COLLINS

"I have been thankful a thousand times that I took Tanice when I did, it is simply wonderful the way it has benefited me," said Miss Nellie Collins, 1329 Connecticut Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

"About eighteen months ago my appetite began to fail and I seemed to be going into a decline. Nothing agreed with me and my nerves were seedy up to such a high pitch I was actually afraid they would snap in two."

"But Tanice has brought about a wonderful change in my condition. My appetite is almost ravenous, my rheumatism is perfectly relieved and I am strong and vital again. I have never dreamt there was as grand a medicine as Tanice in the world."

Tanice is sold by all good druggists.

Gochinando—I understand the town on confe from figures in a recent novel. Was the author born there? Visiter—Yes; and if he ever shows up again he'll die there.

Dread of Asthma makes cognites thousands of miserables. Night after night the attacks return and even with the best treatment on hand, it is still in torment from continual indisposition. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Aspirin Remedy changes all this. He recommends it in preference to any attack, as it will not, leaving the afflicted one in a state of peace and happiness he once believed he could never enjoy. Inexpensive and sold almost everywhere.

Wishing for sleep is a poor way to get it

A LITTLE wisdom in the daytime is a better assurance of rest than any amount of anxious wishing when nerves are a-jangle at night.

What you do at noon often has more influence on sleep than what you want and hope for, at midnight.

Tea and coffee's drug element, caffeine, whips up the nerves, and when its use is continued there's usually a penalty which no amount of mental effort can avoid.

The part of wisdom, as so many thousands have found, is to turn away from nerve-stimulation and adopt rich, delicious Postum as the mealtime drink. Postum delights the taste, but brings no disturbance to nerves or digestion. Even the little children can share in the enjoyment of Postum at any meal.

It's better to anticipate warnings than to be driven by them.

It's better to encourage and preserve sound nerves and complete health than to listen to the clock ticks at night and say, "I wish!"

You can get Postum wherever good food or drink is sold and served. An order today may be the beginning, for you, of the great satisfaction and comfort which so many others have found in Postum.

Your grocer has both forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

A Useful By-product

Tons of Bobbed Hair Are Made into Mattresses

The momentum of the bobbed hair fad has reached a record pace in Chicago.

Careful investigation reveals that scores of local hairdressers are exacting a daily toll from 2,500 women, ranging in age from flappers to state, by white-haired matrons.

At the present rate it is maintained, all the women in Chicago will be bobbed by October 22 next, a hairdresser said. This authority figures that 300,000 hours daily will be saved in all the women here bob their hair. The average amount of hair shaved in a bobbing is about three ounces. Although this hair is unsuitable for use as switches and transformations, it is excellent for mattresses. It is estimated that more than 3,000 class a ruff with mattresses, can be made as a byproduct of the bobbing industry in Chicago.

Thinks Swearing All Right

Appeals for aid to Armenia found a ready response among Manitoba and Saskatchewan farmers, donations being from two to five bushels per load.

NOW SINGS THE PRAISES OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Saskatchewan Man Who Has Found New Health and Gained Twenty Pounds in Weight Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Winnipeg, Man. (Specialty)—Simon Gawkliuk, well-known and respected resident here, is a sworn friend of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He has tried them and can vouch for them.

"I can now assure you that I was led to use Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mr. Gawkliuk states. "I had backache and after using Dodd's Kidney Pills I am much stronger and I gained twenty pounds in weight."

"Now I am very thankful to say I have no more backache and I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to every one."

That Mr. Gawkliuk's trouble came from the kidneys is evidenced by the name he gave to his kidney trouble—Kidney Pills. They are pure and strong and a kidney remedy. They heat and strengthen the kidneys and put them in a position to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Some kidney pills are pure blood. Pure blood means good health.

Ask your neighbor if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys.

Factories in Edmonton

City Has Over One Hundred Manufacturing Establishments

Edmonton is not generally recognized as a factory city, yet judging by statistics recently published by the Board of Trade it may lay some claim to the status. More than one hundred bona fide manufacturing establishments are to be found in the city, all producing goods of a wide variety. The Board made the census with an eye on the forthcoming made-in-Edmonton exposition to be held in the spring.

Use Maud's Liniment for the Flu

Toes were packed in cheap linings exported by Germany before the war, to save space.

Traces of many diseases still prevalent have been found in mummies 3,000 years old.

A Palm Beach Frock of Red and White Crepe

By Marie Belmont

Palm Beach continues to stress the colors of red and white which it inaugurated a year ago. She who so easily would not consider a south-bound wardrobe complete without a number of frocks in this smart color combination.

Red rings clinched on white crepe make this gay little model of youthful life. Fern bauble completes its daintiness. The becoming surprise blouse is finished by a smart roseette and streamers of black grosgrain.

The bone bracelets are of red and black and serve charmingly to carry the outfit's costume detail. The fat of collecting colored bone bracelets and wearing one or two to match each costume is being strongly noted.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one day bright, the next cold and stormy, that the mother is compelled to keep the children out for the fresh air and exercise as much as possible. In consequence they are often exposed in overheated, badly-ventilated rooms and are soon sick with cold or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach, bowel and drive out the cold to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. W. Williams Medicine Co., Brooklyn, Ohio.

Easter States Getting B.C. Fish

In a single day fifteen carloads of fish passed through Winnipeg from Prince Rupert, B.C., bound for New York and other eastern United States points.

A Prime Dressing for Wounds—In some factories and workshops carabolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and in the treatment of workers. For home use keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

May Erect Coal Bunkers

Negotiations for the erection of large coal bunkers for the storage of coal at the water are being carried on by Alberta colliery owners at the cities of Vancouver and Prince Rupert. The coal will be used for bunkering and other purposes.

One of the most effective vermifuges on the market is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only clear the intestinal system of worms but will prove a very serviceable medicine for children in regulating the infantile system and maintaining it in a healthy condition. There is nothing in the composition which will injure the most delicate stomach when directions are followed, and they can be given to children in the full amount that they will tolerate without all worms.

"What sort of a woman is Mrs. Guff?" asked Mrs. Muff.

"Well," replied Mrs. Muff. "She's one of these women who could wear a $10,000 necklace and make it look like it came from the 10-cent store."

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Hon. Duncan Marshall's sale. This will be one of the largest sales of pure-bred Shorthorns in the province, and will include several prospects for real herd bulls. Mr. A. A. Beirnes who has been running a drug store in town for some time, is leaving Tofield where he will continue business in the future. Mr. Beirnes and family and frank have been popular residents of the town and will be greatly missed. Mr. H. D. Winder of Okotoks, will take over the drug store and run it as a confectionery.

When on a week end visit to her husband at Calgary Mrs. J. Wells Johnson was taken suddenly ill with an old complaint and had to be removed to the Holy Cross Hospital where she went through two operations successfully at the hands of Dr. Winder. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is now progressing favorably.

When a man's sublime faith in Providence is shaken by a cruel fate and he becomes bitter in his disbelief, it is certain he has many experiences, because no man's "heading on" for extraordinary fought Fate without startling results. The leading character in "The Scoffer," booked for a showing at the Opera House on Saturday, is said to provide a startling instance of a man's turning away from, and finally returning to, the faith which had borne him up previously.

Mr. W. H. Stark of Drumheller, a Didsbury old timer, was a visitor in town on Friday last and called in the Pioneer office for a visit with the Editor. Their many friends will be glad to hear that Mrs. Stark is enjoying better health than formerly but is still in a weak condition. Mr. Stark who was also under the doctor's care for some months is looking a great deal better than when we last saw him.
